

Complaints to the BBC: October 2013

The BBC answered over 13,000 complaints from the audience during October 2013. These ranged from a small number of complaints about alleged breaches of editorial guidelines through to a much larger collection of views about programme content and services.

This month this included complaints about the decision to invite Ed Miliband on to the 9th October edition of Watchdog in order to discuss energy pricing.

The BBC's responses to some recent issues can be read on the BBC Complaints website.
